TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. GEUS reserves the right to enter your property to install, operate, maintain, and/or remove our surge suppressor equipment at your meter.
2. The meter-based surge suppressor remains the property of GEUS, and only our employees or representatives may install, operate, or remove it.
3. If any of the surge suppression products fail while you are covered by the EnergyWise Surge Protection Program, and a power surge damages your electronic equipment or appliances, which are properly connected to the product and contracted for protection, LEA International, the manufacturer will:
 - a. As necessary, repair or replace (at its option) the suppressor within a reasonable period of time after you notify us of the failure.
 - b. Pay for repair or damage (at its option) of your standard electrical or electronic equipment and appliances that were damaged because of the system failure, up to the fair market value of the equipment and appliance, which shall in no event exceed the total amount of $5,000.00 per appliance, $2 million per home for appliance damage.

LEA reserves the right to approve any replacement you choose.

4. The EnergyWise Surge Protection Program warranty covers standard electrical and electronic equipment. Standard electrical equipment is covered by the warranty that accompanies the Meter-Based Surge Suppression. And is defined as any indoor appliance with primarily electrically operated mechanical components, such as refrigerators, clothes washers, central vacuum systems, conventional ovens, clothes dryers, heating/air conditioning units, power tools, coffee machines and other small appliances, and direct-wired spas, microwave ovens and garage door openers. In addition to the Meter-Based Surge suppressor, electronic equipment must also be properly connected to Plug-in Surge Suppressors in order to be covered by the warranty, and are defined as any appliance with extensive electronic circuitry and components, such as solid-state televisions, VCRs, modems, CD players/stereo systems, answering machines, security systems, cable TV tuners, personal computers, microwave ovens, electronic game systems, fax machines and word processors. All equipment must be operated in accordance with manufacturers specifications. Use of the Plug-in Surge Suppressors with adapters or extension cords voids the warranty.
5. You must notify LEA International, through GEUS, of damage to appliances due to suppressor failure within 30 days of the failure in order to be eligible for the repair or replacement benefit. A failed plug-in suppressor returned to GEUS and will be forwarded to LEA International for repair or replacement.
6. The warranty does not include medical or life support equipment.
7. If the EnergyWise Surge Protection Program service is terminated by either party and the suppressor is not removed from the meter, there is no liability related to the suppressor after termination and no warranty coverage after termination.
8. Except for the LEA International warranty for the EnergyWise Surge Protection Program which provides for the repair or replacement of the fair market value of the equipment/appliance, which shall in no event exceed $5,000.00 per appliance and $2 million per home for appliance damage because of a suppressor failure. No liability and no warranties of any kind exist by virtue of this program.
9. The LEA International warranty begins on the date of installation of your Meter-Based Surge Protector and plug-in suppressors.
10. The warranty coverage is more fully set forth in warranty document to be provided by LEA International.

I agree to lease the essential equipment associated with the GEUS EnergyWise Surge Protection Program for a minimum of 24 months. I understand that basic protection afforded under the program consists of a meter socket adapter only and that additional protection will be provided through outlet surge suppressors leased under the provisions outlined in this application. I also understand that the cost of the EnergyWise Surge Protection Program will be included in my monthly bill and I agree to pay all charges in accordance with the GEUS P-401.01 Service Policy and ordinances of the City of Greenville.
